Report of Remedial Teaching

Department of English conducts a remedial teaching programme for students from B.A.III special English. The syllabus is prescribed by affiliated university which is followed by the institute. At B.A.III the new paper is introduced to the students which entitled Introduction to Literary Criticism. Criticism is a new subject for these students. The need basic knowledge of this subject. To provide them instructional creativeness the remedial teaching programme is conducted at the beginning each semester. The basic purpose is to remove the learning distortions and subject matter difficulties. To avoid the future problems in learning process the efforts were taken in Remedial Coaching Classes. Students introduced with new syllabus and literary theories.

Though the literature is not new for the students criticism is totally new and unknown for them. To remove the impediment of difficulties in understanding the remedial course is conducted in the present academic year total 16 students are benefitted with this introductory programme and output is that they obtained good marks in both semesters. They have proper knowledge of literary criticism and the critics from different era. It will be surely helpful for them in further studies and research.

Output:

- The level of wastage and stagnation is reduced and students inspired for learning without any fear
- Necessary and correct foundation helped students to understand the basic concepts in criticism
- Inculcated regular and better study hobbies
- Students came to know their real potentials

Policy for Remedial Coaching for B.A.III Special English

The University Grants Commission has initiated Remedial Coaching to the backward class students; students who could not pass particular course as well as those who would like to improve their performance in certain courses.

Taking the inspiration from policy of UGC Department of English of Savitribai Phule Mahila Mahavidyalaya, Satara has decided to provide remedial coaching and teaching to the students from T.Y.B.A. Special English at the beginning of the academic year. But in the present academic year the world has been facing the pandemic disease of COVID-19 and so Government has laid some norms and conditions to avoid the social contacts. Department of English has only 15 students so it is possible to obey the rules of social distancing while classes. It is decided that during the admission process these classes will be conducted for the new subjects. This schedule will be conducted without disturbing the regular teaching hours. At B.A III, the students from English Dept. will be acquainted with new subject entitled as Introduction to Literary Criticism. This subject is totally new and difficult to understand in first effort and therefore students will have to face problem in academic development. To avoid this upcoming obstacle, English Department scheduled remedial teaching Classes in September 2020 for the concerned paper with the purpose of improving the performance and quality of students and to capacitate them. Mostly the intake of students is from hilly area and from the economically weaker sections and so having a lack of literate background. Moreover they have less communicative competence and command over English and so need special coaching. The objectives of this policy are as given below:

- To acquaint students with the basic concepts of new subjects.
- To provide them opportunity to strengthen their subject knowledge
- To improve the academic proficiency AND CRITICAL THINKING

- To enable them to come up to level necessary for pursuing higher studies efficiently
- To raise their level of comprehension of basic subjects to provide a stronger foundation for further academic achievements

Remedial Coaching:

- English department runs remedial coaching for all the students from the department
- The classes are conducted without disturbing the regular academic schedule of teaching
- The progress of the student is evaluated on the basis of written examination of 25 Marks on objective type questions

Specific steps adopted:

- Personal, Academic and Social Counseling
- Basic concept clarification and explanation with examples
- Tutorials, discussions, and interactions
- Bilingual explanations and discussions
- Enhancement of communication skills and art of reading-learning
- Trial test

Outcome:

- Students will get the knowledge of basic concepts from concerned subject
- Rise in the level of comprehension of subject
- Improvement in subject knowledge required to get good marks
- Improvement in written and creative skills
